Course Description

Comparative Foreign Policy exists with two fundamental goals in mind: present students with theoretical frameworks in how foreign policy choices are made by actors and to analyze contemporary and ongoing problems in foreign policy. For this course specifically, we will examine the role force plays in the decision by actors. The decision to use or not use force is one that will affect the lives of millions and often involves actions made by individuals, groups, and states. This course is comparative in that we study foreign policy choices in a comparative framework.

Course Format

This course progresses through classroom-based discussion. My goal is to keep my lecturing to a minimum, but this can only happen with student participation and engagement. Additionally, assignments in this course are oriented towards the goal of facilitating discussion and student participation.

Required Text

There are four books required for the course:

1. Hudson, Valerie M. 2014. Foreign Policy Analysis: Classic and Contemporary Theory. ISBN: 978-0742516885.
2. Walzer, Michael. 2006. Just and Unjust Wars: A Moral Argument with Historical Illustrations. ISBN: 978-0465037070
3. Sagan, Scott Douglas & Kenneth N. Waltz. 2012. The Spread of Nuclear Weapons: An Enduring Debate (Third Edition). ISBN: 978-0393920109.
4. Art, Robert J. & Kenneth N. Waltz. 2009. The Use of Force: Military Power and International Politics.

In addition to the books, there will be several articles required throughout the course. These articles will be available on blackboard under the Course Documents section.

This course does not require subscription to a newspaper or a magazine, but being knowledgeable about current events will certainly help your performance in the class as it will become easier to relate the topics we are discussing to ongoing events. A few recommended sources include:

- The New York Times
- The Wall Street Journal
- The Economist

Additionally, academic political science blogs can provide a wealth of information on specific topics. A few blogs worth following are (click to go to the website):

- The Monkey Cage
- The Duck of Minerva
- The Quantitative Peace

Finally, if you are a reddit users, there are several useful subreddits that can enhance your knowledge about world politics or international relations. Two academically inclined subreddits include:

- r/IRStudies
- r/PoliticalScience
- r/ForeignPolicyAnalysis
- r/GameTheory

Course Requirements

1. Weekly Quizzes: 10%

Almost every week, there will be one in-class quiz. The quiz will be drawn mostly from that day's or week's material, though, it may contain content from a previous week. The weeks with another major assignment or test due will not have a quiz; I expect there to be 10 quizzes in total for the class. Generally, the quiz questions will be posted on the digital display and students will write the answers on a full length sheet of paper.

2. Midterm: 20%

The midterm will be an even mix of multiple choice questions and short answers. Expect to spend 35 minutes on multiple choice questions and 40 minutes on short answer. Each section will be weighted equally for the final grade.

3. Discussion Memos 10%

Students will write two (2) short memos (2 pages max) on a particular chapter or reading assigned for the day. The memo will be distributed to class by 5pm the night previous to class via Blackboard (so people have a chance to read it). If you are not familiar with how to send emails via Blackboard, consult with another student or with the instructor. The memo is four parts in single spaced text: a brief (no longer than one paragraph) summary of the work, one paragraph of critiques or novel thoughts about the work, four (4) solid discussion questions, and one citation or link to material (film, academic article, newspaper article, youtube video, song, board game, video game, etc.) related to the reading. The memos will be assigned during the third week of class.

4. Analysis Paper 25%

Take a decision by a non-US state to enter or intervene into a conflict. Analyze what caused a state to make that decision using from a particular frame of reference. Answer the question: Why did the state make that decision? Consider alternative explanations that and analyze how those alternative frames provide benefits and costs to analysis of this particular situation. This paper has a maximum size of 20 pages in length.

5. Class Debate: 15%

The class debate will occur throughout the semester. It will involve teams of 3-4 people. 2 people from each team will participate in the live debate. Early in the class, each team will be assigned a topic and a side. The students will prepare speeches in affirmation or negation of the topic. The time allotment for the speeches will be 10-10-6-6 with 3 minutes of questioning after each of the 10 minute speeches by the opposing team. Each person will be graded individually based on the debate as well as by inter- and intra-group review. Guidelines will be available on Blackboard.

6. Final 20%

The final will be longer than the midterm, but the distribution will be about the same. Expect to spend 50 minutes on multiple choice questions and 50 minutes on short answer questions.

General Guidelines and Information

1. Lectures will begin on time. Avoid arriving late to class; otherwise, you may miss important material, quizzes, or information about class assignments. However, being late is better than not showing up at all. If you do arrive late, attempt to arrive quietly into class and avoid making too much of a disruption. The same is true if you have to leave class early. If you miss any information due to your absence, ask a classmate for notes and to help you catch up. In general, it is a good policy to find people within the class that you can share notes with and be able to study collectively.
2. Study guides and extra credit. I do not offer either of these.
3. Please avoid classroom disruptions. Turn your cellphones to silent before class begins.
4. Use the APSA style of reference. To standardize citations and references, follow the guidelines set out by the American Political Science Association. Information and guidelines can be found in the following pdf file: <http://www.apsanet.org/media/PDFs/Publications/APSASStyleManual2006.pdf>.
5. Cheating and plagiarism will not be tolerated. All written work is subject to being submitted to SafeAssignment through Blackboard. This is a program that will find copied work from both published sources, the internet, and other work by students. Student who are found to be plagiarizing or cheating on a given assignment or test will automatically fail that assignment or test. If you wish to use work from another class, you must obtain permission from both instructors. Doing so without permission is a form of plagiarism.
6. SafeAssignment: All written assignments must be turned in through SafeAssignment given the appropriate links on Blackboard as well as providing a physical copy to the instructor/teaching assistant. The digital copy is due by 5pm on the day the assignment is due to be turned in. Assignments not turned in digitally as well as physically will not be graded and receive a zero for that assignment. If you have trouble with submitting an assignment, contact the instructor immediately.
7. Missing exams and late assignments: There will not be makeup exams or quizzes. Late paper assignments will be severely penalized—as such, having work completed early will increase your chances of avoiding penalties to your grade. The standard deduction will be one full letter grade per day that the assignment is late. That is, an B- will become a C-.
8. Lecture Pace: I speak quickly. Some thoughts on how to deal with this:
  - (a) Ask questions.
  - (b) Ask me to go over or to give more detail about a particular issue.
  - (c) Use the recorded lecture format to fill in notes (discussed above).
  - (d) Use group notes so you can worry less about the slides and more about what is being talked about.

Given these issues, students are strongly encouraged to attend class during the regular session.

9. Grade appeals. If you believe that you were not graded appropriately for a given assignment and wish to contest that grade, you must do so in writing. Appeals will not be accepted for 48 hours from which the assignment was returned. The appeal should clearly state your objection and request that your work be re-evaluated. Re-evaluated work will be graded from scratch and the grade can be increase or decrease from the grade originally assigned.
10. The syllabus. the syllabus is a living document that can and will be altered throughout the duration of the course based both on need and design. Generally, this may means readings will be removed or added as needed. All changes will be listed on Blackboard, so make sure to check announcements for any such change.
11. Contacting the instructor. The best way to get in touch with me is either through email. Any question that is of general interest to the entire class should may be answered in a way that provides the answer to the entire class.
12. Accommodations: To request academic accommodations for a disability contact the Disability Resource Center by phone, (208) 426-1583, or e-mail, drcinfo@boisestate.edu. Students are required to meet with a Disability Specialist prior to receiving accommodations and may be required to provide documentation to clarify accommodation requests. Information about a disability is confidential. More information on the accommodation process can be found at <http://drc.boisestate.edu>.
